

This picture was taken around 1907 in front of the home of Preacher Hiram Nelson Kelley (H. N. Kelley). The home is located near Burlington, WV. Preacher Kelley was responsible for the founding of Kelley Chapel and served as the church's minister for many years. The home still belongs to descendants of the family and continues to be used as a private residence. The picture includes the children, step-children and grandchildren of Preacher Kelley. This home was the birthplace and homeplace of Harry Fisher Shank, Jr., a long-time member of The Keyser Church of the Brethren.

Back Row (left to right): Elsie Bailey, George Bailey, Sadie (Kelley) Bailey, Robert Kelley, Ida (Kelley) Shank, Lucy (Purgit) Shank (mother of Harry Fisher Shank, Jr., and grandmother of Patsy K. Shank and Harry Fisher Shank, III, members of the Keyser Church of the Brethren), Bertha (Kelley) Rinker, Ella (Purgit) High, Jonah Kelley (father of Edward Kelley, Congressional Medal of Honor winner from Keyser, WV), Aranah (Kelley) Powell

Middle Row (left to right): Hiram Nelson Kelley, Susan (Rogers-Purgit) Kelley (grandmother of Harry F. Shank, Jr. and great-grandmother of Patsy K. Shank & Harry F. Shank, III), David Arnold, Elizabeth (Wilson) Kelley & Twins Louis and Louise, James Wilson, Ora (Kelley) Willson and son Hayden, George Sam McGee, Mary (Kelley) McGee holding son Summerfield McGee (Summerfield McGee was a long-time member of the Keyser Church of the Brethren serving as a Sunday School teacher and in other capacities, and was also the Superintendent of Schools in Mineral County, WV), John Agne, Orpha (Kelley) Agnew, Charlie Kelley holding Ida Kelley Dove, Maggie (Helman) Kelley and Alva Kelley.

Front Row (left to right): Emma (Kelley) Hinkle, Willamenta (Kelley) Shears, Mary Kelley, Nelson Arnold, Harry Kelley (son of John & Elizabeth Wilson Kelley), Ella Kelley, Cora McGee, Georgia McGee, Sarah (McGee) Rodgers, Daisy McGee (daughter of John), Maggie McGee, Clarence McGee, John Kelley (son of John & Elizabeth), Dan Agnew (son of John Agnew), and Edgar Agnew (son of John).